

Hood Presence Sensor ZPS-H

Use with the AVC Fume Hood Control System

The Accutrol ZPS-H Hood Presence Sensor is an energy saving addition to the AVC Fume Hood Control System.

The Accutrol ZPS-H creates an operator detection zone to determine occupancy at the fume hood. When an operator's presence activates the sensor, the ZPS-H sends a signal to the Accutrol Fume Hood Controller for "normal operating mode." This places the independent fume hood control system into an occupied condition of operation for the appropriate airflow. When personnel are absent from the fume hood operating zone, the ZPS-H sends a signal to the Accutrol Fume Hood Controller for "setback operating mode." This places the independent fume hood control system into an unoccupied condition of operation for appropriate airflow.
